

2024 REPORT TO THE COMMUNITY

A Building. A Vision. A Healthier Future for Pets.

In 2024, a remarkable gift opened the door to an even brighter future for pets and families throughout our community.

The Capital Area Humane Society received the generous donation of a $1 million building from the Michael G. Eyde Estate, that will become the future home of our Spay & Neuter Clinic, providing an opportunity to dramatically expand access to affordable veterinary care for the animals who need it most.

Since opening in 2011, our Spay & Neuter Clinic has performed thousands of surgeries each year, helping families access essential care while reducing pet overpopulation in our community. But demand for affordable services continues to grow. Our clinic receives hundreds of calls weekly from pet owners seeking care, and appointments can fill months in advance.

This generous gift gives us the space to dream bigger.

The new facility will allow us to expand our surgical capacity, serve more pets and families, and explore additional wellness services in the future. Most importantly, it will help us prevent unwanted litters before they begin and keep more pets healthy, happy, and safely in the homes they love.

A donated building is more than bricks and walls. It is an investment in the future of animal welfare in our community.

We are deeply grateful to the Michael G. Eyde Estate who made this transformational gift possible. Their generosity, combined with the support of our donors and community partners, is helping turn a vision into reality.

The journey is just beginning, but the possibilities are extraordinary.
